

By Phat

Ordinarily, this chap is a very pleasant fellow, easy to get along with, but today he loomed up big and nasty. "Say," he said, "didn't you tell me that, come Easter, the pressure would be off and things would let up? But here, they're beginning to hang ribbons on May Poles and you still want 24 pages and keep that press running all week. Things haven't changed much since January." It was the composing room foreman and it took a lot of fast talking to explain that it wasn't me or any of The Sun staff—it was just that the Village is bigger and busier than ever before. Told him I'd just as soon have it taper off a little after the busier six months since coming here. But it has been the biggest season and there's still May ahead. And May, I think, is one of the best months on the desert.

THE VILLAGE—Well, after three years I find I'm no liar, after all. Way back in 1943 I winchellized a bit and said here that J. L. McAtee and Alice Caine Parry were going to be married. They were—last Friday. Talk about your long-range prognostications! (There's a $5 word in a four-bit column. We always give value here.) Anyway, I'm happy to know that what I said in '43 came true in '46. Understand that Chief of Police Gus Kettmann got a citation this week. It was for double parking on Palm Canyon drive. He faces a fine—not at the hands of Judge Gene Therneau but by Frank Partridge, who levies assessments for charity at the Lions club.

MUSIC—"Oh, What It Seems To Be" still seems to be the nation's No. 1 number but I expect to give way to "Personality" soon. That latter number was Ted Reed's pick last November and it is now in the place spot . . . "Day By Day" is working up and "You Won't Be Satisfied" is still right there . . . There's an old-timer which is drawing lots of nickels into juke boxes these days. Remember "I Remember April?" It's moving up . . . The record people are really going to town with their albums now. Have acquired several lately which combined a lot of the good old-time numbers. Had to move the ice box out of the apartment Wednesday to make room for more records.

ODDS AND ENDS—Got a copy of "The Desert Scrap Book" this week. It's published by Harry Oliver who claims it's the only 5-page newspaper in the nation. It's folded in such a way that each page is a little larger than the preceding one and the last page is number "5." But Harry says not to worry. It won't put The Sun out of business and send me back to the dailies. It only comes out four times a year—that is, if I have time to get out that many . . . And if you were not up at 5 a.m. today you missed a great sunrise . . . Usually I'm not up at that time but this morning the telephone jangled loud and long at 4:50 . . . You guessed it. Someone had dialed the wrong number. So I just stayed up.

THE MAIL—"Why don't you take a count of drivers? You'd learn there are more women at the wheels of cars than men and that, therefore, women are the better drivers because more men are ticketed than women," comes a card in feminine writing. Well, will admit that most drivers who stop to let me cross the street are women. But also, that most drivers who hug the middle of the road at 15 miles per sec so you can't get by, are also women. . . . The way you bang that "I" key on your typewriter, I often wonder whether Mrs. G has a chance to say anything when you're home, was this week's mean one . . . "Why was the flag at the fire station at half mast this week?" comes a query. Asked Fire Chief Bill Leonesio and he said it was at the government's request in memory of Chief Justice Harlan G. Stone.

THIS AND THAT—With all of the safety devices railroads have installed in the past few years, can't see how an accident such as that yesterday near Chicago can happen. Must be that despite all mechanism perfections the human equation remains constant . . . Traffic figures reveal, however, that you're safer on the rails than in your car . . . Because on the highways the human equation really operates . . . South and Central American countries have sent 21 engineers to this country to study our traffic system with the view to attracting U. S. tourists. They are taking their traffic lessons in the east, fortunately, not Los Angeles.

FOOD—Do you eat eight slices of bread a day? I don't but some statistician has figured it out that the average American eats that many a day. Think of what it would mean to starving Europe if each American halved his daily quota. Besides, it would be good for their figures. . . . Most of us eat too much, anyway. . . . Looks as if the crisis overseas has hit here, too. Understand several local places were out of beer this week. . . . With America apparently plentifully supplied with most foodstuffs, just figure how much could go to the starving nations if each of us cut down just a little bit.

LASTLY—That's the irony of it. Just as ice cream is getting plentiful they ask us to cut out apple pie.

Great Frolic To Be Staged Monday Night

Palm Springs' busy social season will be climaxed Monday night with the first annual Desert Spring Frolic at La Quinta Hotel, under sponsorship of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce.

With attendance at the gala affair limited to 400 by the serving facilities at the hotel, tickets were going rapidly today, forecasting an early sell-out, according to Kenneth Kirk, chairman of the committee on arrangements. Most of the plans for the event were laid out at a meeting of the committee Monday at the Palm Springs Hotel, and final plans were reported at an evening meeting at the Kirk home Thursday night.

Tickets are on sale at Bullock's, Palm Springs Drug company, Gordon's in the Plaza and the chamber of commerce.

With the grassy patio of the La Quinta Hotel to be taken over for the party, a portable dance floor will be set up in the center, surrounded by tables. A May pole decoration motif is being worked out under direction of Mrs. Robert Ransom and William Goodrich. Incidental music during the early evening is to be provided by Jules and Webb, popular entertainers, and an outstanding band will provide dance music later in the evening.

One of the principal features of the evening will be the giving away of valuable prizes donated by Palm Springs merchants. These include nylons, scarce foods, beverages, optical goods, and many others. There also will be games.

Donors of the prizes will be assisted by Frank Bogert, Frank Bennett and Kenneth Kirk in disposing of their wares in the awarding of the gifts.

Earl H. (Nick) Nichols, former well known Palm Springs resident, recently of 29 Palms, where he was a prominent civic leader and businessman, succumbed last week to heart failure, a few hundred feet from his home, as he was returning by automobile from a business trip.

He was a brother of Mrs. Ernestine Wood and uncle of Grant Wood, of Palm Springs.

Last rites were said Monday, at Wiefels and Sons chapel, in Banning.

HERE SINCE 1910

Mr. Nichols was born in Walsburg, Utah, 37 years ago. He attended schools there and later went to Utah Agricultural college at Logan. He came to California in 1910, and was postmaster at Thermal from 1910 to 1914, also a deputy sheriff. He later went into the sheep business in Utah and then served in World War I.

He was here from 1927 to 1930, at the El Mirador garage, and later went to the Deep Well Guest ranch. In 1932, he went to 29 Palms, where he was head of the reality board for several years.

When he went to 29 Palms, there were no paved roads leading to it, no utilities or modern conveniences. His first office was a tent, where he started that community on to its present thriving state.

ACTIVE LIFE

He was president of the chamber of commerce there for three years, and also prominently identified with San Bernardino county chamber of commerce activities.

Mr. Nichols was active in school affairs of his community and in other civic affairs. His death came as a great shock to 29 Palms.

Pallbearers at the funeral Monday were Tom Martin, W. J. Mills, William J. Underhill, Ray Flickenger, James Cole and Ralph Schneider. Honorary pallbearers included Frank H. Bagley, Harris G. Sherman, Leonard P. Wycoff, Sherman S. Clark, R. W. Greenough and R. E. Culver.

news this week of the engagement of Carol Frances Corper, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Franklin J. Corper of Evanston, Illinois, to John C. Hoover, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Earl Hoover of Glencoe and Palm Springs. Miss Corper is a senior at Northwestern University and is a member of the Delta Gamma Sorority. Jack, a senior too and a Phi Delta, was an active and popular member of the Palm Springs High School student body a few years back, a member of the Scholarship Society and president of the senior class. The announcement was made by the bride-elect's parents on Easter Sunday. No immediate plans are being made for the wedding. The Hoovers have just recently returned to Illinois after spending the season at their Smoke Tree Ranch home.

These balmy nights are an incentive for outdoor entertainment as the size of the group hayriding from Rogers Saturday night testified. Among those enjoying the rollicking ride were the John Chaffeys, Milt Hicks, Harold Hicks, Frank Bogerts, Barney Hinkley and Jack Gorham. Quite a goodly crowd enjoyed the square dances.

The Stanley Shuttleworths are leaving our fair city after being residents for several years. They will move to Redlands, their native home. Stanley has been employee of the postoffice here.

After Easter comes the well-known lull but it's some compensation to be able to find a place to park. Walk up Tahquitz any weekend and you'll know summer has come. The stream is literally alive with human fish cooling off in the icy waters.

Telephone Call From Overseas Is Welcome Present

One of the most appreciated Easter presents received in Palm Springs last Sunday was the telephone call at La Paz Guest ranch which came directly from Switzerland to Mrs. Walter Duffy. The voice coming across the miles of land and ocean was that of her husband, Captain Duffy, who has been stationed in Germany for the past two years doing some special filming for the government. He reported that he will be home next month.

While the captain is having a short holiday and enjoying the winter sports of that country, his pretty wife is acquiring a golden desert suntan here. With her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beaumont of Beverly Hills, and a sister, Jere Beaumont, they are vacationing at La Paz.

Most popular place these warm days is the large swimming pool at La Paz, where the guests are enjoying not only daytime swims but many are having evening swims during the warm nights. The shuffle board by the pool also is the scene of much activity all afternoon and evening, as many of the long-time guests now are getting expert in the game.

Among those noted in swimming suits or leisure outfits this week have been Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brash, Los Angeles; Robert Hutchinson with his mother, Mrs. B. N. Hutchinson, and Mrs. Wayne D. Muller, of Seattle; Mrs. Edgar Ulmer with her small daughter; Mrs. R. M. Parker, Los Angeles; Mrs. Helen Schiller, Ashland, Wis., and many others. Mrs. Joseph L. Mankiewicz has returned to La Paz with her two young sons, Christopher and Thomas, who are ardent horseback riders. Mr. Mankiewicz, a noted motion picture writer, is in Palm Springs doing some writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Darby were entertained at dinner at La Paz by James Fouch, who knew Mr. Darby when both lived in Inglewood. Mr. Darby, who now is on the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county, was mayor of Inglewood for 14 years. Mr. Fouch, who now resides in Palm Springs, formerly was in business in Inglewood when he owned and operated the Universal Microphone Co.

Mrs. Heartt Guest Of Honor at Local Auxiliary Session

Mrs. Frederick Heartt of Pasadena, Department of California President of the American Legion Auxiliary, was guest of honor and speaker at the meeting of Owen Coffman Unit held last Wednesday evening in the Desert Inn Fiesta House.

Mrs. Esther Shultz, Unit Child Welfare chairman, presented the Auxiliary leader, who gave an interesting and comprehensive report on her visit to the recent National Executive meeting in Indianapolis.

At the close of this conclave the state president continued on to Washington, D. C., where she attended the 20th Annual Women's Patriotic Conference on National Defense. Five hundred delegates representing thirty-two participating organizations were in attendance. According to Mrs. Heartt, the outstanding speakers at the conference were General Jacob L. Devers, Commanding General, Army Ground Forces; Major General Leslie R. Groves, Assistant to Army Chief of Engineers; Congresswoman Frances P. Bolton of Ohio; Dr. Harold C. Urey of the Department of Chemistry, University of Chicago. Dr. Urey is a world famous scientist who helped develop the atomic bomb. Vice Admiral Ross T. McIntire, Surgeon General, U. S. Navy; Congresswoman Emily Taft Douglas from Illinois; United States Senators Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts and Scott W. Lucas from Illinois, each gave thought-provoking addresses.

For the first time in the history of the Conference the delegates were extended an invitation to a tea at the White House. Mrs. Truman was the gracious hostess. Mrs. Walter G. Craven, National President of the Auxiliary, received the guests with the First Lady.

At Wednesday's meeting Mrs. Shultz gave a most enlightening report on the Child Welfare conference held in Los Angeles April 14. The American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary's programs for the care of needy veterans' children were outlined.

Preceding the meeting Mrs. Heartt was dinner-guest of the Executive Board at the Palm Springs Hotel. Present were Mrs. Gladys Blume, Auxiliary Past Presidents Parley chairman, and Mrs. Beth Calhoun, Past Grand Guardian of Jobs Daughters, both of Pasadena, who accompanied Mrs. Heartt on her visit to the Village; Mrs. C. V. Knupp, Unit president, Mrs. Henry Menard, Mrs. Stuart Allen, Mrs. Edna Patrillo, Mrs. Esther Shultz, Mrs. Frona Gill, Miss Inah Peterson, Mrs. Jay Morrison, Mrs. Allen Davis, and Mrs. Harold N. Lienau.

Initiation of new members and nominations of officers for the coming year are on the agenda for the next meeting of Owen Coffman Unit scheduled for Wednesday, May 1, at the Fiesta House.

Niece of Local Family Enjoys Desert Vacation

Miss Peggy Sorum of Oakland and Danville, Calif., was a house guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sorum, during Easter week, enjoying the desert to the utmost.

Miss Sorum is a teacher of the sixth and seventh grades in the Danville school. Danville is an agricultural and estate community a short distance southeast of Oakland. She is a graduate of the University of California and San Francisco State Teachers' college. Her father, George W. Sorum, is a brother of Villager Ray Sorum and resides in Oakland.

It was Miss Sorum's first visit to the desert and she was so thrilled with its beauty that she said she would have many interesting and educational experiences to relate to her classes.

U. S. Senator William F. Knowland

By ETHEL GILLETT WHITEHORN

In September, 1945, Governor Warren appointed William F. Knowland to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of California's senior senator, Hiram Johnson.

Seven months have passed since Senator Knowland took office, and in that time he has made an enviable record as a sterling legislator who fights to the last trench FOR measures that are healthy for America and AGAINST those that would stop the flow of progress and liberty. Senator Knowland is a forthright and loyal citizen, who, instead of looking askance at the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, reaches out to protect these sacred documents with everything he has.

A striking example of his determination to preserve American ideals is revealed in his two attacks on the nation's No. 1 problem—housing. In his first attack, Senator Knowland protested the shipping of large quantities of lumber to foreign lands when building materials are so badly needed for homes in the United States. As a result of his efforts, the Civilian Production Administration cut its export quota from 225,000,000 to 179,200,000 board feet.

In his second attack, Senator Knowland fought for an adjustment of lumber price ceilings so that the mills can make a fair profit, thereby stimulating production. He accused the OPA of making a fetish of its "hold the line" policy, and declared that "production" is the only key against inflation. He called upon OPA to adopt a realistic attitude and to eliminate certain controls that are "strangling business."

Senator Knowland won his point, and effective April 22, lumber costs were increased an average of $4.50 per 1,000 feet in mill price ceilings for western cedar.

Another example of Senator Knowland's common sense and logic is found in his bill on Military Training for Youth. He believes, as do all straight-thinking Americans, that this nation must maintain a strong national de-

SPOTS
Before Your Eyes

April all but gone and May just a step around the corner, the Village still remains jammed with winter residents and two- and three-day tourists. The 1946 season has, without a doubt, seen the biggest peace-time throngs crowding thoroughfares here, the largest crowds jamming every "spot" in town, while every hotel could have done triple the business they did—if they had more room.

Yet, comes the month of May with little sign of abatement, seemingly everyone wants to stay here until every caressing touch of the sun during the daytime turns into a searing kiss in June or maybe July, for all I know.

SEEKING ROOM

Contrary to the opinions of some, the Village will not be empty of people this summer. I know for a matter of fact, that several large building contractors, employing large numbers of artisans are attempting to drive bargains with hotel owners under whose roofs they may house these workmen. One of these builders has offered a two-year contract to one hotel keeper, wherein he will agree to use every room for his workers for that length of time.

Also before the summer is many weeks old, one of the largest projects on the Pacific coast may get under construction—the San Jacinto Winter Park Tramway. This project will no doubt employ scores of workmen. Remember now, you merchants who are planning to close, "I told you so!" There are some who predict that there may be between 3,000 and 6,000 men working at various projects in the Village this summer. The lower number plus those of us who have to stay here, may make the population here in Palm Springs equal to at least the number who were here last summer, when the army air base and Torney General hospital was in full operation.

EXPANSION PLANS

Danny Danzinger of the Lido is going east for two months. The Pago Pago, now in the throes of expansion, will stay open until some time in June. Thelma Davis and Bill are planning a trip to Honolulu but the elaborate reconstruction of the dining room of the Colonial House will continue. And Mrs. Davis said she was going to take time out and show Bill just how the Golden Gate at the San Francisco harbor actually opens to allow ships to sail seaward. A New Englander, who has never been in San Francisco, Bill will no doubt be able to tell the story when he returns.

Meanwhile Hal Gerkin, pianist at the Lido, is getting a good many plaudits. He is good. At the Chi Chi, Virginia, (Phat, you should meet her) continues to worry about where to seat the cash customers for dinner. Jack Freeman, just back from India, and wife, Annette, were in there with a party of friends. So was Bennie Rueben and family. Andrea Leeds and her husband and Lou Holtz and his better half, were dining there, too.

THEY LIKE IT

In love with the weather here now at the tag end of April was Frank Sinatra, Nat Pendleton, Darryl Zanuck and the ebullient Gregory Ratoff. They were all at the Pago Pago this past week.

If some of the people will stay away from Bill Ude's Cafe for that 30-cent lunch, I might get a plate of the stuff when I'm about 15 minutes late.

And my evening was topped last Wednesday night at the shooting gallery. There, 22 rifle in hand, was Al Hoover, blasting away at a bull's-eye paper target. "Practicing up for the duck season," was his optimistic reply. Here's to you for a glorious May!

BUT GOOD—Some of the best entertainment in town is furnished nightly at the Pago Pago by the above trio. Lost week one of the patrons there said he really was hearing double—it sounded like a sextet. Anyway, from left to right, Al Dean, on the base, Bobby Hutton on the guitar and Teddy Emmons on the vibraphone—he also plays a mean piano. (Gayle Studio Photo.)

struction of the tramway to two other firms.

The prime contract will be let to the Consolidated Steel Company of Los Angeles while the concrete foundations will be poured by Morrison-Knudsen, of Boise, Idaho. Present in Palm Springs during the last few days, and studying the proposed plans of American Steel and Wire Co. was W. F. Pruden, chief engineer for Consolidated Steel, Wilbur McClara contracting engineer and J. Yates steel structural engineer. Also in the Village was R. M. Conner and J. P. Frein, of Morrison-Knudsen, with offices in Los Angeles. All five of these men closely inspected the site of the tramway, with the view of submitting bids to the American Steel and Wire, Alden G. Roach, president of Consolidated Steel will arrive here today for further conferences with Bannerman.

"MOST MAGNIFICENT"

Bannerman, who has traveled on construction jobs to many spots in the world, declared that the view from the tramway will be one of the most magnificent in the world.

"The San Jacinto Tramway," said Bannerman, "is by far a much greater engineering job than that of any other tramway in the world." He pointed out that the biggest cars used in Europe only carry 37 as compared with his company's proposed plan of transporting 54 passengers.

Every known safety device will be used. If the electricity used in operating the cars should be suddenly cut off an emergency power plant will immediately be substituted and even if this fails, another auxiliary plant stand in readiness for operation.

UTMOST SAFETY

In event the towing cable should snap, automatic brakes immediately grasp the cable and will bring the car loaded or empty to an easy stop. If a car should be stalled half way between stations, smaller emergency cars can be brought to the stalled car and the passengers safely transferred.

The supporting steel towers along the top of the mountain, will carry two cables on either side, while two cars are going up on either side of these towers, two will be coming down. They will be pulled by an endless traction rope at a speed of 1200 feet per minute or 20 feet per second.

Seats are provided for passengers in each of the cars, but Bannerman said, at Franconia, they were taken out because passengers preferred to view the country over which they were traveling, standing.

Western Air Host
at Birthday Party to NAA Chapter

Western Air Lines celebrated its 20th anniversary locally with a dinner party at the La Cita last Tuesday evening. Guests were members of the Palm Springs National Aeronautical Association. Bill Ortwin, local traffic manager for the air line acted as host and three birthday cakes were baked for the occasion.

The host also spoke to the assembled group of diners, in which he outlined the history of his company. He later spoke about British Guinea.

Following dinner, a business discussion was held by the NAA members, Ted Reed, airways chairman for both that organization and the Chamber of Commerce, spoke of the breakfast flight to Palm Springs to be undertaken by members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce this coming Sunday.

Norman Granger, president of the local NAA, pointed out that there will be three groups who will participate in the flight to the army air base here on Sunday.

One of the groups is the San Francisco 99 Club, composed of women pilots and another is the Aviation Country Club of Los Angeles.

The women pilots will fly on Saturday and will attend the Sunday breakfast at the Army Air Field and dinner at La Quinta on Sunday.

is the "Dead-Man's" switch used by the operators of these cars. The moment he takes his foot off this pedal the car he is operating comes to a stop. The control lever regulating the speed of the car, either up or down, even when at full speed will come to a slow and comfortable stop at the stations.

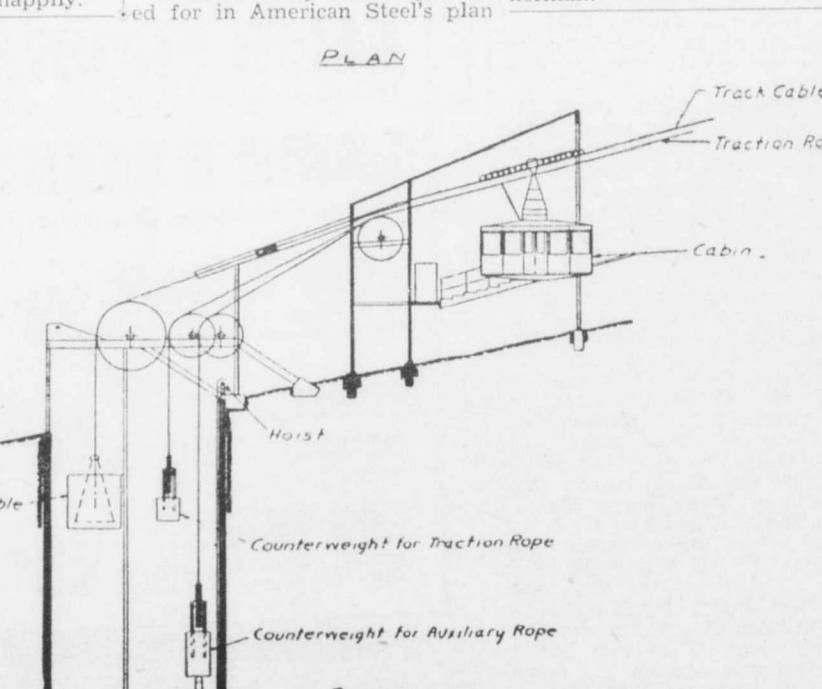

Bannerman was asked that if his company should be successful in winning the contract for the Tramway, would material shortage stop the construction of the tramway.

"No, I don't believe it will," he declared. "All of the materials to be used in the construction of the tramway is now being produced by American Steel, Consolidated and the Morrison-Knudsen Company," he added.

TAKE 18 MONTHS

Bannerman continued by saying, that if his company should get the contract by July or August, the first passengers would be riding to the top of San Jacinto by fall of 1947.

"It will take approximately 18 months to build," asserted Bannerman.

Sunrise Service . . .

KCMJ, and marked one of the few occasions in many years in which a member station of the Columbia Broadcasting System has permitted to handle such an origination without network officials in charge. This was perhaps due to the fact that Clinton Jones was for many years a CBS writer and producer. Also, Dick Joy and Don McBain, co-owners of the local station, were present. The former is also a long time former member of CBS. The services were heard on more than a dozen stations of the Columbia networks covering more than five Western states.

Rehearsals by all of the various groups that took part in the services had been going on for many weeks. The United Singers of Palm Springs were practicing their choir songs at 4 a.m. on Easter Day. Groups of homing pigeons were released above the place of worship. After circling over Palm Springs, they headed for distant points.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

Following the flare of the trumpets, the singing of the "Old Rugged Cross" was given by a trio composed of Mrs. Holly Lash Visel, Violet Fowler and Mildred Wagner. This song was interwoven by a group of male voices singing "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?" Two anthem numbers were given: "Sunrise on Easter Morning", composed by Professor W. B. Olds of Redlands University, dedicated to Mrs. Nellie Coffman and "In the End of the Sabbath". In both these numbers the United Singers of Palm Springs assisted.

Bill Hays read a poem entitled the "God of the Open Air". Professor Alexander Hammond, former instructor of music in Palm Springs High School, rendered the solo: "Open the Gates of the Temple".

A brief Easter message was delivered by Dr. J. R. MacCartney, and the services closed with the singing of "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name". Lois Lux accompanied at the piano for much of the singing. Ernest Ortell, Robert Grenzow and Bill Carey supported much of the musical program with their brass instruments.

BREAKFAST AT INN

All of the sound equipment used in amplifying the program over Palm Springs was installed and managed by Ted Reed and his employees. Faye Brainard labored prodigiously in setting up the staging of the event and its backdrop.

After the services, all who participated in staging the 29th Easter Sunrise services were guests of the Desert Inn at breakfast.

The actual broadcast of the program took place after the sunrise services, at 6:15. This was done in order to get the most important parts of the program into the allotted time granted by CBS.

Home Owners League Discusses Zoning

Home Owners League of Palm Springs met in special session at noon today at the Desert Inn. The meeting was presided over by Frank Cutler and the matter up for discussion was the zoning problem in Palm Springs.

"I Rise to Remark"

BY CONGRESSMAN JOHN PHILLIPS

The hurried trip to California did not work out. I was supposed to fly West in a Navy plane, as a member of a Western States Subcommittee of the three west coast delegations, and the particular objective was the Southern California housing shortage, on which members of Congress have been working earnestly. Instead, the renewal of the Selective Service bill came to the Floor, followed by the renewal of the OPA. I did not like to be away for either one, particularly the latter. Congress now expects to recess, for a brief Easter let-up, on the evening of the 18th, to reconvene the week of May 1st.

I did however make a trip last week, which interested me very much, and which may interest the readers of this weekly letter. I had to go to Chicago, for a luncheon and afternoon meeting, on the 12th. It was a meeting of the executive committee of the National Committee for Christian Leadership. That is another story. What interested me was how I got there and back, and its significance.

I had breakfast at home, and at 8:00 took one of the big four-motor planes, at the airport, which holds more than fifty passengers. In four hours I was in Chicago.

The meeting lasted about an afternoon, and a little before six, I was again at the Chicago airport, for the big plane back to Washington. Another four-hour flying-time trip, and by 11 o'clock I was in bed at home. It was an easy trip both ways, smooth and comfortable and without strain. Both planes carried the full passenger load. Eight more planes of this size have just been added to the Washington-New York service. I still think of the time it used to take to cover these distances, and then I turn my mind forward and think of what this will mean to travel in this country, and travel abroad, in the future.

The Radio News, a trade paper of that industry, reports that the United States Army refused to broadcast the Eddie Cantor program because it was afraid Moscow might be offended at the characterization of the "Mad Russian" (played by Bert Gordon) on that program. You can write your own comment on this item.

One of my friends says that, as he understands them, the new regulations covering passage between California and Mexico, are that the traveler doesn't need any papers, just so long as he has the papers to prove that he doesn't need them.

One of the reasons that I must come back to Washington so promptly after the Easter recess is because appropriation bills will be coming on the floor, one after

Reed's Reader

Must I remind y'all that this is not an advertisement for the Farmers' Market managed by someone with a name pronounced Diggeberry. This is to sell you phonograph records from a place called Reed's Radio Shop, pronounced (praise Allah) Reed's Radio Shop.

Only except that this week we are selling discos fonograficos on account of because the warm weather made Lynn sorta south (or sous) of the border conscious. As a result, if you should have an urge or two for a tango or a rhumba, a conga or a samba, you should better come quick before these torrid little tempos melt and run out the door under their own power.

There's a Xavier Cugat tango album just in, as well as his conga set, that should be standard equipment in your dance library. Or, if you like Enrico Madriguera's note-perfect music, you could lay out your pesos for his album which includes three rhumbas, two terrific sambas, a bolero, a beguine, and even a garracha (whatever that is).

Personally, I'd just as soon have the "Saludos Amigos" album from the Walt Disney's production, 'cause that way I could just sit and listen—me, that is, with the permanent waves in my eyelids from getting up before the crack of dawn for the Easter Sunrise service. But maybe you're the rugged, athletic type who could make the dash—to Reed's Radio Shop, 342 North Palm Canyon.

GOLDEN WEDDING—Celebrating their golden wedding anniversary at the Palm Springs Tennis Club last Monday night were Mr. and Mrs. John R. Jenkins, who received the felicitations of 264 dinner guests. Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary at Golden Party at Palm Springs Tennis Club

It was a golden party for their golden wedding day. Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins of Long Island and Palm Springs

Monday night marked their fiftieth wedding anniversary at the Palm Springs Tennis Club in one of the most colorful and delightful affairs in the history of the Village. The setting, environment, decorations and all were in keeping with the theme of the day.

The floral decoration, the table settings, the cuisine and even the candles by whose light the diners toasted the honored couple, were carried out in a motif of gold throughout, paid homage to the ingenuity and artistry of Lee Bering, manager of the Palm Springs Tennis Club.

ENJOYED 17

"My mother and father enjoyed themselves immensely at the anniversary party," declared Mrs. Whitney. "And I believe mother looked more beautiful on Monday night than she did at the time they were married."

Laughingly she was asked how she could account for her belief, when naturally she was not present at the first occasion.

Unable to attend the celebration here was another daughter Mrs. L. W. Proctor of New York City and her daughter Carolyn 16. Mrs. Whitney's son, also a grandchild of the Jenkins, Harry L. Whitney, presently attending Brown University in the East was the only other immediate member of the family unable to attend.

TO SHOW PLANES

Another added feature will be the display and special flight of "The Bumblebee," the intriguing combination airplane-glider, which is being manufactured by Holly Bolis, noted glider designer.

Major Ewalt has just returned from three years service overseas as chaplain in the Near East and Mediterranean areas. He will be heard in the pulpit of the Community church Sunday morning, at the 11 o'clock service. He has an interesting story to tell.

Major and Mrs. Ewalt will be guests of honor at a reception at the church Tuesday evening, when a social gathering is scheduled.

not be open to public cars, but arrangements are being made by the Aviation Committee of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce, and the local chapter of the National Aeronautic Association to assist the field authorities in clearing interested persons for admittance to the field. Windshield stickers that will admit 100 automobiles to the air base will be distributed by the chamber of commerce office. Persons driving to the field without these stickers may park their cars outside the base and transportation to the flight line from the gate will be provided by cars of the aviation committee and NAA chapter members.

Certain to be the center of attraction at the field will be more than 15 of the latest models of airplanes which the American plane manufacturers will offer to the public for private transportation this year. One of the principal ships of this group will be the North American Navion four-place job that has attracted widespread interest among pilots and private citizens alike. The latest Taylor, Piper and other light ships will be shown along with numerous others, some inexpensive and others the costly luxury liners.

At their dinner meeting Tuesday night, the Palm Springs chapter of the National Aeronautic Association members made their final plans for assisting the flight guests at the air base. Ted Reed, chairman of the aviation committee of the Palm Springs chamber, reported plans for handling traffic, information, transportation and other assistance. Most of the chapter members plan to be present to lend their aid. Norman Granger, president, reported to Chairman Reed.

Major Ewalt and Wife Guests at Macartney Home

On their table the proverbial wedding cake was topped with a miniature bridal couple, golden in color.

Early on the day of their wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins entertained a group of friends at breakfast at their home. Dr. John R. Macartney, pastor of the Community Church here, blessed the day and the couple.

During the reception and celebration that evening at the Palm Springs Tennis Club, Dr. and Mrs. Macartney together with Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Miss Kingsbury Becomes Bride at Easter Ceremony

Mary Lou Kingsbury, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Elmer M. Whitehouse, became the bride Easter of Joseph C. Stuart, in a double ring ceremony solemnized at the Community church with Dr. John Robertson Macartney officiating.

The ceremony was completed in a surrounding of Easter lilies and beneath a cross of lilies.

The bride's sister, Jacqueline Lee Kingsbury, was maid of honor, and the bridegroom's brother, Jack Stuart, served as best man. Don Wickman and George Banggardner of Long Beach were groomsmen. Guy Kingsbury, the bride's brother, gave her in marriage. Mrs. Stuart received her education in Long Beach high and junior college and at Glendale Business college. Mr. Stuart is the son of Mrs. W. G. Stuart of Hermosa Beach and is a graduate of North Texas Teachers' college. He is now active in the building trade.

Attending the wedding were 175 friends of the bride and bridegroom, many from out of town.

The bride was attired in white moire taffeta, princess style, finger-tip veil fastened to a Dutch lace cap, and carried a nosegay bouquet of white sweet peas, roses and gardenias.

The reception was held at the Woman's clubhouse where assisting were Mrs. George Banggardner, Mrs. Guy Kingsbury, Mr. and Mrs. Al Algers, all of Long Beach, Mrs. Jack Tulis, Mrs. John Burley, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Parsons, Mrs. Edward Gill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shoemaker, Mrs. Rudolph Harmon.

A group of girls from the Plaza Lodge, where Mrs. Stuart has lived for the past four years, served delicious refreshments to the assembled guests.

WAL Wins Decision On Air Line Route

Federal Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the decision of the Civil Aeronautics Board made in 1944, granting Western Air Lines an air route between Los Angeles and Denver, Colorado, according to an announcement issued by the head offices of that company in Los Angeles.

The C.A.B. award to W.A.L. was made in November, 1944, and was protested by United Air Lines. Failing in this protest, United took its case to the Circuit Court of Appeals.

READ THIS, AND I WILL SHOW YOU THE DOOR OF OPPORTUNITY—

But You Must Open It.

My policy for the next five years will be to travel from city to city and build and open new "ORANGE-GENE" stores. This is the reason I am selling my newly built and fully equipped store at Mission Beach, San Diego, Calif.

I cannot operate all my stores and I believe in individual ownership, for the good of the people and for myself.

I am including the exclusive rights for the City of San Diego.

I believe that you can open ten (10) or more stores in San Diego with the profits during this summer from the store in Mission Beach.

profits derived during this summer from the store in Mission Beach.

Easy to manage and easy to work.

I am also including my new drink:

'Banana - Gene'

This drink is made of "GENE" Compound and fresh bananas. A TERRIFIC drink—LUSCIOUS to extreme.

No soft drink, I believe, can compare to its richness and flavor.

TWO OUTSTANDING DRINKS, which can beat any competition.

My price for this complete store at Mission Beach, use of my two outstanding drinks and, mind you, exclusive rights for San Diego, is

$3,500

(or, Mision Beach store without San Diego is $2,500.)

In the last week, I have opened and sold "GENE" stores in Venice, Newport Beach, Laguna Beach and Sunland, and more are being completed and new territories being earmarked.

America is great, so are its people. There is no end to this expansion and the ROYAL FRUITS of ORANGE and BANANAS can only INCREASE IN POPULARITY.

INDEPENDENCE AND SECURITY are all the FOUR FREEDOMS in one. But you must pay and work to earn them.

So, if you have the money or good securities and are interested in this profitable business write me, Box 786, Palm Springs, Calif., or I will be here in Palm Springs, in my home, 1672 South Palm Canyon Dr., on Sunday and Monday, April the 28th and 29th between 10 and 4 o'clock.

COME IN AND WE WILL TALK THINGS OVER

This Is The Door . . . You Open It.

Sincerely,

GENE NIFFORD

Sheppard Flies West for Conference on Opening Joshua Tree Park to Mining

Arguments for and against opening Joshua Tree Monument to mining were heard at a meeting in San Bernardino, Wednesday of last week, attended by representatives of the Mining Congress of Southern California and others interested in the area.

Congressman Harry R. Sheppard, who flew from Washington to attend the meeting, said he would not feel justified in asking for any additional acreage for the miners. He has already introduced a bill that would open 280,000 acres for mining. Representatives of the mining interests are asking for at least 350,000 acres.

Opposition was expressed by representatives of the Twenty-nine Palms Chamber of Commerce who said that 20,000 people visited the park annually and that mining could destroy the value of the land as a recreation center.

James E. Cole, custodian of the park, said that mining ruins land for all time and the wonders of the desert should be preserved. Representatives of sportsmen groups also attended the meeting to urge that the area be opened to hunters.

Walter Pittman, Riverside county supervisor, endorsed the move to utilize the area for mining.

Other speakers at the meeting included Frank Bagley of Twenty-nine Palms; James Cole, custodian of the monument; Charles L. Stokes, property owner in the area; Dan Doran of Barstow, who spoke for the state fish and game commission and for sportsmen; G. A. Jocelyn of the U. S. public lands office and himself a hard-rock miner, and Edward Tucker of the state bureau of mines at Los Angeles.

In an open forum, speakers were Edmund C. Jaeger of Riverside college, a noted authority on desert lore; Randall Henderson, editor of Desert Magazine; Secretary Harry C. Harper of Palm Springs chamber of commerce; Attorney Joseph Seymour, president of Riverside County Chamber of Mines, and Clyde S. Hall, Thermal minerals expert.

The Tharps had been assigned a special quota," said Mr. Ostrow, "and the Village certainly took care of it. I want to thank every one for the great aid given us in this drive. It was wonderful."

The money raised here goes to aid war victims in Europe.

It was the first time Palm Springs had been assigned a special quota," said Mr. Ostrow, "and the Village certainly took care of it. I want to thank every one for the great aid given us in this drive. It was wonderful."

Mr. and Mrs. Tharp left this week for Nebraska and after a visit there, plan to go to Lake Tahoe, where they usually spend the summer.

The Tharps plan to return to Palm Springs in October.

Palm Springs did it again.

According to Barney Ostrow, chairman of the United Jewish Appeal drive, the quota assigned Palm Springs—$5,000—had been far exceeded.

"We're over the top—and still going strong—the drive does not close until April 30," said Mr. Ostrow.

Stanley Rosin was in charge of the actual drive with the women of the Jewish Women's Club Boyd, in charge of the event. Assisting her will be members of the camp committee who will answer questions of interested parents.

Riverside's established Scout camp, Azalea Trails, is the only one in the United States which attracts an attendance of 50% of its registered scouts, according to the organization's national headquarters. This year there is a particularly heavy request for registration from out-of-county scouts. The registry will not be open to them however, until June 1.

Through the ministerial association arrangements have been made this year to have both protestant and catholic services at the camps on Sundays.

A radio skit, based on camp activities, will be presented gratis by KPRO, Friday, at 5:15 p.m. It is announced, while the local theatre has offered to show a short trailer on the camp.

The Tharps plan to return to Palm Springs in October.

ON "EXPEDITION IN EXPOSURE" WITH JACK BREED.

The gorge which constituted Marsh Pass is a spectacular one, because of its magnitude and sweep, of its brilliant red-orange colors, and because of its peculiar weathering by rain and wind. I was to soon learn that this Pass was merely a preview of what was yet to come.

The road, which we had dreaded for fear of its being impassable, was barely damp, and to our utter joy and surprise, we experienced not the slightest difficulty in surmounting it. We learned the next day that we had been exceedingly lucky, for a heavy shower that night made Marsh Pass virtually impassable, and no less than seven of the 20th Century Fox Studio trucks became bogged down early the next day, in addition to three tourist cars! Unknowingly, we had gauged our time to almost the very hour. In fact, as we jostled on down the road and into Kayenta, it had begun sprinkling!

MOST REMOTE

Kayenta is considered the most remote postoffice in the United States. It is over 150 miles from the nearest railroad, and is thus a place unique. In appearance it is not unlike the other several trading posts we had passed already. It contains an Indian hospital which we understand is now closed. The second largest building is of course the trading post itself. In this large building are counters in front of the three walls facing the entrance, and behind these counters are shelf after shelf of assorted items, such as velvet for the Navaho women's voluminous skirts, bright-colored shirts and Levis (when available) for the Indian men, sacks of flour and potatoes and especially fresh fruits, jars of lard, bright-colored machine-made Sears Roebuck blankets which oddly enough the Navaho women buy and wear in preference to their own far superior hand-made rugs! In one corner are suspended the many pieces of Navaho jewelry, all pawned by Indians and never sold by the trader. Some of these are collector's items: huge concho silver belts, long turquoise beaded necklaces, hand-wrought silver bracelets and rings.

The postoffice had just recently been moved from the small building in front of the late Wetherell homestead and was now housed inside the post. On inquiring about mail, we were told it had already been taken on up to Monument Valley ahead of us.

WIND RUINS IT

So we were on our way again. One interesting thing on the edge of Kayenta attracted our attention. It was the wreckage of an AT-6 (Texan) airplane on a mud flat. It was merely a shell now, with every removable part gone. On later questioning we heard the story. A cadet whose home base was much further south, had evidently been sight-seeing over the Navaho Country when he had run out of gas. He made a perfect forced landing on this level area at the edge of town. However, that night a terrific windstorm arose, and next morning he found his plane completely broken up and wrecked! And that very day the local Navahos swept in and completed the dismantling!

The next landmark we spotted ahead was that sharp jutting volcanic plug called Aga-thlan Peak (which means in Navaho, a big pile of wool, for at the foot of this mountain the sheep are usually gathered together and sheared of their precious wool). From many angles it closely resembles that other famous volcanic neck of New Mexico, Shiprock. A volcanic neck or plug is merely the solidified lava in the center of a volcano. Later, all of the surrounding cone has been washed away by erosion, leaving the neck harder and more resistant lava spires behind. They are quite common all over our Southwestern desert areas wherever there was formerly great volcanic activity.

WEIRD REGION

To the left of Aga-thlan Peak is an equally well-known formation: Owl Rock. Unfortunately, just a few years ago (as also occurred to famous Eagle Nest Rock in the Petrified Forest), a severe windstorm and thunder-shower weakened the "beak" of the owl and it crashed off the column to the talus slope below. However, enough still exists to give the silhouette of an owl. Further along, right beside the road, was a much smaller and low mass of sandstone called Turtle Rock, and after passing it and looking back, it does appear like a giant tortoise, with long neck and head as well as curved shell. In fact, as I was to soon find out, there is really not one eroded formation in the area that can't, with a little imagination, be mentally made to appear like some animate object. I think that, perhaps, is one of the many attractions of the area, for such personalized imaginings make the otherwise bizarre and weirdly sculptured formations a part of each visitor.

The road now penetrated directly between Aga-thlan Peak and Owl Rock, and continued on a gradual descent. After several more miles of quite good roadbed, we passed Anderson's Camp, which was built just last month for the express purpose of housing over a hundred men employed by the motion picture studios to erect the set for the technicolor movie "My Darling Clementine", due for actual filming early in May. The problems confronting a studio while on such isolated location is a story in itself and will be described in a later column.

VAST DISTANCES

Just beyond Anderson's Camp, the horizon drew all my attention, for here was my very first view of famed Monument Valley! Before me was opening out a vast low valley, so wide that I had no way of judging its width until Jack informed me that the nearest formations were at least ten miles distant, and some were nearly twenty! That is the first thing that struck me: this great distance combined with almost limitless space in all directions.

Across the horizon, now in full view, paraded a series of monuments that I was to shortly know by heart. They have all been given picturesque names, and from the west toward the east include Train Rock, Wide Butte, the Setting Hen, the Emperor's Throne, the Stage Coach, the Bear, the Rabbit, the Castle, Brigham Young's Tomb, the Mittens, Merritt Butte, Ruin Mesa, and Mitchell Butte. At the edge of this great panorama a dirt road branched off to the left; this leads to Harry Goulding's trading post and lodge (called by the Navaho, Tsay-kizzy or Shattered Rock). Two other roads branched away to the right. The fainter of these goes directly to the edge of Monument Valley itself, on to the mysterious and little-known Tsay-begay region. The other, well-traveled road, leads to the movie set, which is a duplicate of early Tombstone, Arizona. The main road that continues on ahead eventually takes you to Mexican Hat and on into the wild country of southeastern Utah.

We of course turned left toward Goulding's and immediately

LOOK to Greyhound first for

TIME-SAVING SCHEDULES

The people of Southern California naturally count on Greyhound to provide a system of accurate, convenient, time-saving schedules that so many communities depend on so completely today.

This important Greyhound "first" in travel service is more important now than ever before, and Greyhound does this job better . . . because it has trained, experienced experts in schedule building, the buses and equipment to put them into effect, the short, direct routes that save time, and a thorough knowledge of Southern California's transportation problems.

Greyhound is constantly planning more new schedules to move rapidly and safely — yet provide a complete local intercommunity service. And when the need arises for even faster bus service between larger cities Greyhound sets up extra schedules for additional limited buses to give still more and better service than before.

WORKING FOR VETERANS—Rep. John Phillips, left, California's Twenty-second District, and William F. Knowland, the Golden State's senator, confer on emergency housing for veterans, particularly as that problem affects Phillips' district. Phillips served in infantry and in ordnance in World War I and attained the rank of captain. His interest in veterans' affairs is further sharpened by the fact that he has two sons, a daughter, a nephew and a son-in-law who served in World War II. Knowland, a veteran of World War II, has been taking the lead in demanding cessation of the export of this nation's lumber abroad in view of veterans' need for it here.

Reservations are pouring in from all over the Southland for the opening weekend and subsequent performances on May 4 and 5, and May 11 and 12. Beside the regular Southern California clientele, many of whom have seen the historical outdoor play countless times, an entirely new audience is anticipated this season.

According to statistics there are hundreds of thousands of persons in Southern California this year who are new residents and visitors to the state anxious to learn something of Early California history, so large throng of newcomers is expected at each performance.

The title role of the play is being enacted by Juanita Encell with Henry Brandon of stage and screen fame as Alessandro. The balance of the cast numbers three hundred townspersons from Hemet and San Jacinto whose appearances are in the form of a labor of love for the play and their interest in the two communities.

Free parking space for thousands of cars is available at the entrance of the bowl. Tickets are available in over fifty Southland cities as well as at the Bowl proper.

Flower Report

Mrs. Barker has collected many interesting flowers, including the following: Blazing Star (Mentzelia) with light yellow flowers, which are quite large. Plants of this genus have curious barbed hairs, by means of which they stick to various objects such as one's coat.

White Tidy-tips, especially well developed at Morongo, a beautiful white daisy like flower. In the coast region the tidy-tips is a different species, the rays yellow with the ends white. This genus of plants was named Layia, after Tradescant Lay, naturalist visiting the coast in the years 1825-1828. He was especially interested in fishes.

Stemodia, a slender plant with small blue flowers, which has lately been separated as Stemodia Arizonica by the botanist Pennell.

Gilia Aurea variety decora, a beautiful little plant, low-growing, with white flowers. Typical Gilia Aurea has yellow flowers, but at Morongo the flowers are white, and it appears to belong to a distant species, though Gray considered it only a variety.

The Purple Climbing Milkweed (Funastrum) was brought by Mrs. Bridgeman from Eagle Canyon, where it had been observed many years ago by Dr. Harvey. It differs from ordinary milkweed by its climbing habit, but as in related plants, the sap is milk-like in appearance.

Clear Easter Dawn on Desert Calls
Out Winter Visitors to Program on Hillside, Parties on Lawn Afterwards

By MARY WALKER

A clear and colorful Easter dawn found the guests of The Desert Inn gathered in congenial groups on the spacious lawns, where, just a few steps from their cottages, they enjoyed in pleasant surroundings the impressive ceremony which took place on the mountainside above them. After the Service was over, guests wandered into the lobby of the Inn where coffee was served until breakfast got underway.

Among the throng of Desert Inn guests from all parts of the nation who were noted enjoying this beautiful Easter Sunrise Service were: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dix of Topanga, who were there with little daughter Sara Sue, and twin sons, Robert and Richard, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Love of Aurora, Ill., accompanied by their children, Suzie and Dick; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ryan of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brown of San Francisco, Carl Brown, Jr., and son Tommy, also of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Van V. Lain of Chicago; Mrs. C. F. Blue of Oakmont, Pennsylvania; Mrs. John C. Snyder of Crawford, Indiana; and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Means of Salt Lake City.

THEY GOT THE BIRD

An Easter prank which carried repercussions all the way from Chicago to Los Angeles, was played on two of our guests from Chicago as they left the windy city to spend an Easter sojourn at The Desert Inn.

When the popular County Commissioner Dan Ryan and his charming wife boarded the Santa Fe Chief in Chicago last week, little did they know what a sensation they were going to cause among passengers and crew.

As these two entered their drawing room they were confronted with a huge box which apparently contained flowers. "I wonder who sent them?" said Mrs. Ryan as she untied the ribbons and lifted the cover. At that moment a flock of white pigeons flew out of the box and headed in all directions!

According to the Ryans, the porters were still trying to shoo the last of the birds out of the train as it pulled into the station in Los Angeles.

A little sleuthing has disclosed that the joke was put into operation by some of the commissioner's fellow members of the Chicago Athletic Association, and knowing the commissioner as we do, we would hate to be one of those pals of his when he gets home!

PROM AT INN

Dancing on The Desert Inn tennis courts under warm desert skies is a treat which will be enjoyed tonight by a large group from Palm Springs high school, when the Junior-Senior Prom gets underway. Uzia Bermani's popular Desert Inn orchestra will furnish the music for this festive occasion which promises to be the outstanding teen-age event of the season.

As the thermometer soars and guests continue to pack their bags and flock to the Desert Inn for these last glorious weeks on the desert, terrace dining by candlelight has become more and more popular.

Guests from the Los Angeles area who have been noted among the gay groups gathered at these tables under the stars this past week were: Mrs. Paul Reynolds and her son, Jim Martin, of North Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Kingsley of Hollywood, who have checked in for the remainder of the season at the Inn; Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Whiting, who were here over Easter from Beverly Hills, as were Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Lytle from Los Angeles. Also enjoying dinner by candlelight were the Douglas family from Santa Monica, which included Mrs. D. W. Douglas and Malern, Mrs. Bruce Arned, Mrs. Bruce Douglas, and Mr. William Douglas.

As these two entered their drawing room they were confronted with a huge box which apparently contained flowers. "I wonder who sent them?" said Mrs. Ryan as she untied the ribbons and lifted the cover. At that moment a flock of white pigeons flew out of the box and headed in all directions!

Punch and Judy Show Presented In Surprise Event

By DICK CHARLSTON

April 11th, the Palm Springs student body, seated in the sun-lit quadrangle between the two academic buildings on our campus, saw a surprise rendition of that old comedy drama which has perpetuated down the ages, "Punch and Judy".

The characters of Punch, Judy, the baby, and all of the rest, were portrayed by the Reverend Benjamin F. Root, who has been giving performances of "Punch and Judy" to various high school audiences for the last few weeks.

Describing vividly how much of an attraction the "Punch and Judy" shows are in England, Rev. Root told how he had spent much of his life in England, although being born in Connecticut.

The history of the age old rogue, Punch, was told in a fascinating manner by Rev. Root.

After the round of interesting information given by Reverend Root, he disappeared behind a cloth-covered enclosure, at the top of which was a stage for the "Punch and Judy" show, to do the many comic voices which issued from within.

The ensuing half-hour was one of expressed mirth and glee on the part of the students over the antics of Punch, Judy, the policeman, the doctor, the colored boy, and the rest.

In the skit, "Punch" was his rascally self, wielding a stick which he used to hit everyone who displeased him. Punch, the first to appear at the stage, called for a kiss from his wife, Judy. After much to-do and gesticulations, Judy brought up their baby while bemoaning the fact that "the baby is sick". Punch then lulled the baby to sleep in his best high-pitched squeaky voice. In comes the doctor, portrayed in the common fashion—a serious, spectacled type bent on collecting his bill for which Punch has no money. Loudly proclaiming that he will call the police if Punch doesn't pay. Punch comes up with a stick and beats the doctor over the head with it, promptly chasing him away. A gruff voice thunders forth, and up pops a policeman next. Another battle takes place between Punch and the policeman. The policeman is also "wiped out".

After cries of "that's the way to do it", which incited roars of laughter from the gallery, a bug-eyed colored boy entered, claiming that he had come to sell Punch a horse on which he could get away on as the hang-man was approaching his house. Punch cannot control the horse which bucks furiously and so the dark boy departs.

The grim figure of the hooded hangman emerges and Punch succeeds in tricking him into hanging himself with what he says, "I've never been hanged before, show me how." The hangman does and is promptly choked to death by Punch.

Then comes another series of astonishing events, in which Punch fights the devil, is set upon by a grim death-like apparition, meets a clown who tries to sell him a stick better than his own, and finally, Punch meets up with his nemesis—a crocodile, who engulfs him with his snapping jaws.

The whole performance was one of an entertaining nature, and the audience showed their appreciation by a generous applause at its termination.

May We Introduce . . .

By JEANNETTE OFSTHUN

Collecting poetry is the hobby of this Junior gal. She certainly doesn't look the poetry-collecting type. Cute and vivacious, her face dimples into a delightful smile at the slightest provocation, and a conversation never lags when she's around.

Born in Pocatello, Idaho, on December 10, 1928, she is now seventeen, 5 ft. 6 in. tall, and weighs 127 pounds. Her eyes and hair are brown, and her skin is brown (light brown, that is).

Her ambition is one of the finest in the world—to become a good wife, and there is no reason why she shouldn't be one. All she has to do is to find a good husband, but since that is in the distant future, we won't go into it any further.

"How Much Do I Love You" sends her, but definitely. If that isn't available, any romantic ballad will do nicely. (How about "Oklahoma Hills")?

She has one special dislike, and that is, "Boys who can't make up their minds!" Swimming is her favorite sport, and fried shrimp her favorite food. She says, "I like to dance with certain somebody's, too." Which brings us to her love life. She is frequently seen with a "certain somebody" who has black curly hair. Guess who? He is a senior.

Her best friends are Teddy Barr, Shirley Renville, LoLo, and Jeannette. Remember when she started school here in February, from Las Vegas? That last one was the tip-off. The girl is Barbara Beeton.

Our junior boy of the week has a strictly zoot hobby, and a most unusual one. It happens to be pearl-diving. You will have to admit that is a dangerous and thrilling occupation. However, he doesn't plan to make it his life-time job. His ambition is to be a doctor.

Jolly and happy most of the time, very seldom do you ever see him serious. Usually he is either laughing hysterically, chortling gleefully to himself, or chuckling fiendishly at some prank he has pulled. Really though, he isn't as bad as he sounds. He does have his quiet moments, and he loves to read.

Our next student was born in Los Angeles, California, on May 10, 1929, so he is a native Californian anyway. He is also from Jordan High School in Long Beach. He has one of those G.I. haircuts which are becoming so popular now, weighs about 100 pounds and has blue eyes. Meet Leroy Brown.

Ah! We have a junior this time—Jacqueline Haggerty. She was born in San Francisco on April 27, 1929. She has lived there most of her life until she came to Palm Springs a couple of weeks ago. She attended El Cerrito High School in S. F. She is five feet, four inches tall, has green eyes, weighs about 130 pounds and has long auburn hair.

We're always glad to have new friends on our campus.

Mystery!

By HERB MENNELL

Soccer in the boys' P. E. classes came to an abrupt end on Thursday, when the ball mysteriously vanished. So far, the instrument has not been found.

Touch football is again in vogue for those students who are not trying out for track, but even touch football has slowed down because of the heat. After roll call and the daily calisthenics by Coach Thompson the boys make for the cottonwoods and shade.

The shortest and surest way to live with honor in the world, is to be in reality what we would appear to be—Socrates.

Soph Assembly Is Delightful Affair At High School

By BARBARA JONES

The Sophomore assembly held Thursday, April 18, went on as planned. The program showed thought and originality, and was enjoyed by many.

Considering it was rushed a little at the last moment, the skit was done as well as could be expected and all the participants are to be thanked for their effort and time put forth on the assembly. Other people who worked hard to make the play a success are Betty Ann Lilly, who did much of the directing, Marianne Slocum, Hazel Veith, and others, who wrote the script; these people are to be congratulated.

The theme of the play was the fortune of a young girl told by "Swami", the fortune teller, with the girl's future illustrated by the other actors.

All in all, the play was quite cute and appreciated especially because it had been looked forward to for so long.

Incoming Students

By RICHARD LANGE

What! Another week gone already? And here I am again! Seems as if I just handed in this column yesterday. Oh well! Wouldn't you think that with only four weeks of school left that everyone would remain where he is? But no! This week we had three enroll in our dear old alma mater. Who are they? You shall see.

Harvey Ward is our first student to be introduced this week. He is a sophomore, born in that "brick town" of St. Louis, Missouri, on April 26, 1929. He has lived most of his life in California however, in Long Beach to be exact, and there he attended the Jordan High School. He is about five feet two, weighs about 118 pounds, has bluish-green eyes and dark blonde hair. You'll see him around.

Jolly and happy most of the time, very seldom do you ever see him serious. Usually he is either laughing hysterically, chortling gleefully to himself, or chuckling fiendishly at some prank he has pulled. Really though, he isn't as bad as he sounds. Campus Briefs

By HAL MINTZ

Last week the affairs of the school had to struggle on without Dr. E. E. Oertel's presence. Dr. Oertel was attending a conference of secondary school administrators held in San Francisco. While in San Francisco he attended two conferences concerning school legislation and finance.

Mr. Henry Greeley is another member of our faculty who attended a conference. Last Tuesday, the County Curriculum Committee met at Perris, of which Mr. Greeley is a member.

Dr. Oertel recently disclosed at a private interview that he had just received a special priority from Washington, giving him permission to begin construction on the much needed new school building. It is expected that the firm of Waale, Camplan, and Smith, Inc. will start breaking ground in a few days. Some men have already started building a shed in which they will keep their tools during the construction. The building will be put into use next September.

Last Wednesday our boys and girls' tennis teams, under supervision of Mr. John Weeks, played Banning's teams. The boys' tennis team consisted of 6 players—Don McLearn, Don Williams, Joe Brummitt, Tom Peterson, Tom Archer and Bob Hoover. The girls' team consisted of Diane Heller, Mildred Potter and Barbara Croft. The other three were not announced in time to make the deadline for this paper, but will be published next week along with the results.

Also, on behalf of Mr. Weeks and all concerned, I would like to express appreciation to Mr. Charles Farrel, owner of the Racquet Club for permitting us to use his courts. You shall see.

Harvey Ward is our first student to be introduced this week. He is a sophomore, born in that "brick town" of St. Louis, Missouri, on April 26, 1929. He has lived most of his life in California however, in Long Beach to be exact, and there he attended the Jordan High School. He is about five feet two, weighs about 118 pounds, has bluish-green eyes and dark blonde hair. You'll see him around.

Jolly and happy most of the time, very seldom do you ever see him serious. Usually he is either laughing hysterically, chortling gleefully to himself, or chuckling fiendishly at some prank he has pulled. Really though, he isn't as bad as he sounds. He does have his quiet moments, and he loves to read.

Our next student was born in Los Angeles, California, on May 10, 1929, so he is a native Californian anyway. He is also from Jordan High School in Long Beach. He has one of those G.I. haircuts which are becoming so popular now, weighs about 100 pounds and has blue eyes. Meet Leroy Brown.

Ah! We have a junior this time—Jacqueline Haggerty. She was born in San Francisco on April 27, 1929. She has lived there most of her life until she came to Palm Springs a couple of weeks ago. She attended El Cerrito High School in S. F. She is five feet, four inches tall, has green eyes, weighs about 130 pounds and has long auburn hair.

We're always glad to have new friends on our campus.

Tribe Meeting

At last Monday's Tribe meeting, the boys witnessed two boxing bouts displaying the many art of self-defense. Wrestling matches were previously scheduled but cancelled the last minute because of another meeting held in the auditorium. The boxing matches were held on the lawn in the quadrangle instead of the bleachers.

The first boxing bout was staged by Chuck St. George of the junior class and Willie Hernandez of the sophomore class. The last bout displayed two sophomores, Dick Doro and Don Croshier.

As the first fight got underway we found little Willie getting the best of St. George in the first round. In the last two rounds St. George came back fighting mad and won the decision of the bout.

Girls' League Meeting Highly Successful Event

By ARDIS GREEN

The sophomore class is to be commended for its excellent program given for the Girls' League meeting held Monday, April 22. The highlight of the program was a piano duet by Betty Ann Lillie and Hazel Veith.

Elections of officers was discussed, which will take place the last meeting of the year. The advantages of an election in the spring were reviewed, of which the most important is that there is always business to take care of during the summer months, which the new president will have the opportunity to carry on and complete before the new year begins. Thus, the Girls' League will be a functioning unit from the very first day of school next fall.

Another problem discussed was a welcoming party for the freshmen of next fall. There was the question of whether it should take place during vacation or the first day of school next September. It was decided that the first day of school would be best.

The Girls' League received an invitation from Pomona College to come to their open house and skits, to be held on May 22, 1946.

Just a Little on The Torrid Side But All Is Well

Hey! Somebody forgot to shut off the heat. Maybe I'd better go down stairs and see if I left the furnace on. What, you say that wouldn't do any good anyhow, because the weather's just as hot outside? Think I'll go out and fry a couple of eggs on the sidewalk. I'm hungry.

But seriously, I wonder just what did happen to the weatherman last week — the week in which, while we were sweltering in our classrooms like a bunch of busy bees, a crowd of L. A. kids were lounging around, enjoying

GAZOOZIT

Here are the Goldust Twins again for the senior dirt.

The week-end started early this time, for Marilyn Ellsworth gave a swell swimming party and the seniors who were there were Oakman and Martineau, Hookey and Brummitt, DeLorse and Tommy, Klug and Val, Carey and Peggy, Hoover and Bea, Gillar and Ann, Wilson and C. J. Also Mort, Mike, Carol, Donna and many others. Thanks Marilyn a lot from us seniors.

Burket gave a party at her house Friday night. And what a party! Quoting Klug, "Three million tourists and two natives who have lived here for a month" made up the guests. It was a lot of fun though. There was one fella from L. A. (We think) that could play the piano and how. The only people we recognized were Carol, Donna, Wilson, C. J., Hook, Julie and even she had two friends down from L. A. (fella, you know), Klug and Val, Carey and Peggy, Hoover and Bea. Swell party, Carol.

After a hectic week-end some brave souls got up at dawn and attended the Sunrise Service. Since there was no C. E. Sunday night, some went home to bed and others went to the cinema. Monday found a lot of tired and sorry people dragging themselves to school.

Saturday night, Carol and Brummitt, Donna and Larry, Hook and Don, and DeLorse and Tommy went to the show and then out to the Racquet Club for a swim. The girls were braver than the boys though, they stayed in longer. It was a lot of fun.

Easter week-end was full of excitement and parties for the juniors. First, there was Marilyn Ellsworth's swimming party Thursday nite. A few people were tossed into the pool and hit bottom but they survived with skinned noses and bumped foreheads. Otherwise, the party went on smoothly with badminton and other diversions keeping everyone entertained. Van and Lolo had a slight misunderstanding but all is patched up now. Other couples enjoying themselves there were Don Williams and Barbara Beeton, Chuck and Teddy Barr, Marilyn and Ed, Jerry and Shirley, Les and Bonnie, Jack W. and Marilyn Bennett, Ed Ewart and Candy, Paul Kaitukoff and Trudy, Betty Ann and Mick-ey.

Friday night there was Burket's party. Seen going in and out were Jamie Seaton and Joanne W., Lolo and Dick, Vivian and Joanne H., Betty Ann, Jeannette and her cousin with some Hollywood, Fairfax and North Hollywood boys. Most of the people there were seniors, however.

We almost missed the party Saturday night. In fact, the host, Don Michael, didn't even know about it himself until he came home and found people in his house. It started quite late and didn't last very long, but what fun it was while it lasted! Galzy and Morrison went into their "It's a good deal, Schlamie" act, and had everyone splitting their sides in laughter. All the big and little wheels seen at the party, at Palm Canyon Gate and elsewhere were Morrison and Virginia, Mort and Beeton, Paul Kaitukoff and Jeannette, Jo. O. and Shirley, Whitey and Candy, Les and Bonnie, Betty Ann and Mickey, Jerry Tracy, Galzy, Niemitz, Bell, Ewart, Stone and Hensen, Bob Ellsworth and Diane Heller, McKinney and Dottie.

On Easter Sunday, Bob Bell and Virginia, Kaitukoff and Jeannette paid a visit to Riverside where Bob Hann lives now, just to tell him good-bye. As most of you know, he is in the Navy and is going back east.

We wish peace — We wish it because we think it is right and not because we are afraid. —Theodore Roosevelt.

Be Smart . . . Relax at the Movies

ON THE WARPATH

By ED WILLS

the freedom of a whole week of Easter vacation! Yes, and it wouldn't have been so bad except that a certain few of them elected to park themselves here and torment us with silly remarks like, "hey com'on down town for a while", when none of us could. That made us all the more grieved that we didn't get a whole week to.

Brother, when the basic urges of spring hit you, it certainly doesn't help having a lot of individuals around who can not only enjoy themselves, but apply the brand to the fire by hanging around us.

Oh well, each and every cloud must have a silver lining, and the silver lining in this one is, that we'll have put our books and our tools of our academic existence behind us about a month before those so-called L. A. "twerp" do.

So, come . . . or high water, Palm Springs High will have the jump on the other schools in California, if that's any consolation to you all.

Firsts in low and high hurdles along with first in the pole vault bolstered our score but was offset by weakness in shot put and broadjump.

Thus, in the final roundup, Brawley came out ahead, but our boys did exceptionally well considering that the competition came from a school over twice our size.

Cathedral City News Round-Up

Cathedral City Groups To Meet For Improvements

A joint meeting of the Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce, Civic Club and Woman's Club will be held Monday, April 29, 8 p.m., Town Hall. The directors of the three organizations are particularly asked to be present in order to pass upon a resolution which will be submitted to the Riverside county board of supervisors.

There are also suggestions whereby the three organizations will co-ordinate their committees so that there will be no overlapping of effort.

The forming of a Sanitary district will come in for discussion as it is strongly felt that the present voluntary system of picking up does not meet the needs of this rapidly growing community, some individuals and businesses still sticking to the rule of "every man for himself and the desert get their refuse."

Mrs. Claude Cobb said she has the promise of a new butane restaurant stove which will be ready in the fall and that she intends to bring up the matter of a new water heater as well as the importance of enlarging the hall and rebuild and insulate the kitchen.

New Members Join Church

At a well attended Easter service held in the Town Hall by the Community church of Cathedral City, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Jordan and daughter Mary Edna and Miss Etta M. Springer were received into the membership of the church.

Rev. John Abels spoke on "Now Is Christ Risen", and sang two solos and a duet with Mrs. Settle, who also rendered a piano number.

The Sunday School entertained the children with a special Easter service at which each child was given an Easter basket.

Here is a chance for somebody to make some money. A quarter section surrounded by improvements. Easy to level. Fine soil. $19,720 cash is 29% of price and gives you something to work on.

Mrs. Grace Early Taken by Death

News came as a shock to the Woman's Club at the Wednesday meeting, April 16, that their beloved charter member, Mrs. Grace Early, had passed away at one o'clock that morning. Members bowed their heads in prayer in respect to her passing. Club members will remember her graciousness and charm when she was entertaining at her attractive ranch home, particularly the club breakfast three years ago. Her loss is mourned but her memory will linger on.

Rev. John C. Abels participated in the funeral service on Saturday, April 20, at Monrovia, her former home. Mrs. Early was a devoted church member who contributed roses to decorate the church each Sunday.

Mrs. Geo. True Elected Museum Board Member

Mrs. George A. True, a resident of Cathedral for 17 years, has recently been elected to the board of the Palm Springs Desert Museum. Her vital interest in the desert together with her knowledge of it through long contact will make her a valuable member.

Under the name of Josephine Moore, Mrs. True wrote a book on bees, "The Bee Line", a copy of which she presented to the museum library some years ago.

Every other year Captain and Mrs. True spend the winter at their St. Simon's Island home in Georgia. We are glad to have them here this year.

Dear Editor: How are school board candidates chosen and how long is their term in office? Do they remain on the board until they die or resign? Are the vacancies posted in time for anyone to file his credentials?

AN INQUIRER.

Mr. Hillary can give you this information as he has been on the high school board for quite a few years.

Dear Editor: There is no one in this town who is so well known or works so well with Palm Springs as Bill Hillary. He has urged the men here to attend some of the service clubs in Palm Springs and get acquainted, and he has pointed out the obvious fact that in an election Palm Springs votes with us and that their votes far outnumber ours, therefore it behoves us to become known there and take part in their activities which are all

How Desert Gets Under Their Skin Told by Newcomers

In answer to a request for stories about army couples settling here due to the war, Mrs. John Casons has consented to write stories about these families and starts in this issue.

The Casons' own story shows how the Desert got under their skin and how even Florida had no appeal after a year in Cathedral.

John Casons was flight officer at the local airfield from April '44 to April '45 before going overseas for a year and leaving his wife Ardith with her mother in Los Angeles. After Judy Ann was born, just a year ago next Tuesday, by the way, Ardith decided to come back and wait for John here. She bought a house at Second and Allen Avenue and didn't have too long to wait for John to come home.

John had been a pilot before the war with Pan-American Airways, but after flying the Hump in India he decided he had had enough flying to last him a lifetime. His home had been in Florida and he fully intended to make his home there. The family went back, but after a month decided to return to their home in Cathedral and make it "home". There are quite a few Florida people doing this, they say.

John is now working for Harry Simsarian but hopes to go into business for himself before long. Best known of our Army couples who have found their place in Cathedral, and making a story worthy of a National Magazine are Staff Sgt. Herbert Henry and his well known wife, Tiny.

They were stationed here during the war and Tiny worked in the post office. After he left, Tiny and Mrs. Cobb went into partnership of the Date and Coffee Shop, which immediately became a success. As the time approached for Herbert to come home again Tiny bought the Elmer Colzier home, determined that there would be no returned soldier problem in her family. Cathedral embraced them both and now Herbert has bought out Mr. Tarr's lease at the Chevron station and taken an army buddy, E. B. Graves, into partnership with him.

Verill Phillips has also found a place for herself in the post office. Her husband, Bob, was stationed at the airfield and they liked it here so much that they intend to stay, too. Bob is doing carpenter work for Mr. Mhoon. They have two children, Carol and Bobby.

Ardith Cason says she will have some more stories for us next week. Watch the Army Corner.

done to advertise this part of the United States. We are missing a chance for mighty cheap advertising if we don't take advantage of these things. MR. J. T.

Send letters to Box 65 Cathedral City and also send Personals to same address.

To the Forum: We talk about cleaning up trash. The lot across the street west of the post office would be a good place to start. Whenever I go for my mail I see it. Yours for a Cleaner Village.

Mrs. Edna Laas and daughter, Dorothy Nichols, entertained friends on Friday, April 26.

Mrs. Lucy Abels and her house guest, Mrs. Harry Lindeman, accompanied by Mrs. Agnes Wilbor, finally left for La Jolla on Monday, April 22. The announcement that they were going last week was premature. They had car trouble and had to return.

Rev. John Abels and Jim Wolseth are planning a trip to Zion and Bryce canyons and to Boulder Dam. They say they were so inspired by the reports of their wives when they returned a month ago that they must see everything for themselves.

Installed in Cathedral: Eleven cement incinerators brought down from Colton manufacturers; an asset and a thing of beauty we say which will help keep down too large garbage collections. Order one from Ben Scott.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Morris, daughter and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Holm, were visitors here for two weeks. They left for their newly completed home in Fort Worth, Texas, on April 20.

Mrs. Mary Jenkins' daughter, Mrs. A. Shaw, with her son, Arthur, have been house guests for Easter week. The local reporter glimpsed them all lunching at Desert Inn.

Mrs. Agnes Gould took her first flying trip to Los Angeles last week. Hope she doesn't get too "frighty" now that her club activities have been abated.

The Knotty Pine's rear end is a popular place for kids lately. Notice an ingenious swimming pool in their back yard and how the kids love it.

From the looks of the new cooler down at Candy and Hank's place, old Sol won't be tormenting them much. How about a job down there, Candy Sure, I'll even work for nothing.

Miss Irene Bartlett, niece of W. J. Nay, and Miss Elizabeth Bowers flew in from Los Angeles to be Easter guests at Palms to Pines' Motel.

Mrs. Kathleen Green was taken to the Riverside County Hospital this past week due to serious illness. She will be missed by many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Larrison entertained a group of friends last Saturday night, at an Easter Egg hunt at their ranch, just east of town, serving luscious strawberry shortcake from the Peterson ranch.

Mr. Carl Duysen has as her guest her brother, Sgt. Everett Harkness, on leave after spending 3 years in Europe and the Pacific. He completed 57 missions over Germany. They made a recent motor trip to Monterey, to visit Carl, who is still in army hospital.

Joy Reaume, who lived here with her husband during the war and then was so sadly widowed when he was killed at the front, writes that she has bought a home at 678 Romula Ave., Los Angeles, near Glendale. She made her large first payment out of the profits from land purchased and resold in Cathedral. She has made her garage into living quarters and is housing a returned soldier and his wife.

Mrs. Myrtle Camp is visiting her son Robert from Glendale.

Easter guests: Mrs. Grace Shilkett and Mrs. Grace Mills, mother and sister of Harold Crawford, also Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shilkett and Roscoe Shilkett from Colton and San Diego.

Easter guests: Mrs. John Casons' mother and father.

Mr. and Mrs. David Maxwell attended Easter sunrise service at the Desert Inn and found many of their Cathedral friends to greet them.

Mrs. Edna Laas and daughter, Dorothy Nichols, entertained friends on Friday, April 26.

Rev. John Abels and his house guest, Mrs. Harry Lindeman, accompanied by Mrs. Agnes Wilbor, finally left for La Jolla on Monday, April 22. The announcement that they were going last week was premature. They had car trouble and had to return.

Edna Cobb Says This Time It Is Going To Be Final

Several times in the past Edna Cobb, best known and appreciated of Cathedral's women citizens, has threatened to resign her position of postmistress, but this time she says she means it.

"There are too many returned soldiers who need my job badly," she said, "and I don't need it and am tired, and want to do the things I have worked so many years to be able to afford."

The Cobbs leave in ten days on a month's vacation to Mrs. Cobb's old home in Kearney, Neb. "That's half way across the United States, and they have the best chicken dinners that you'll find anywhere", Claude says.

Edna will be sadly missed at the post office where she has served since its origin in 1929. She says sometimes only two letters were dispatched of a morning. Now there are 200 box holders and over 1500 patrons.

Claude and Edna say they are going to build their permanent home on their new ranch and that they recently sold their old ten-acre ranch to Morris Kanter and his sister, Pauline Kallman, from the East.

The Golden Text of the Sunday
Lesson-Sermon on "Probation after Death" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, is from Hebrews: "Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God. But exhort one another daily, while it is called To day; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin."

Scriptural selection from Genesis reads, "And Jacob was left alone; and there wrestled a man with him until the breaking of the day . . . And he said unto him,
What is thy name? And he said,
Jacob. And he said, Thy name shall be called no more Jacob, but Israel:
for as a prince hast thou power with God and with men, and hast prevailed . . . And Jacob called the name of the place Peniel: for I have seen God face to face, and my life is preserved."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy writes, "When Jacob was asked, 'What is thy name?' he straightaway answered; and then his name was changed to Israel, for 'as a prince' had he prevailed and had power with God and with men." "The result of Jacob's struggle thus appeared. He had conquered material error with the understanding of Spirit and of spiritual power. This changed the man."

Great Throngs at Catholic Church For Easter Service

One of the largest throngs ever to attend services at Our Lady of Solitude Catholic church took place beginning with High Mass Thursday at 9 a.m. and ending with another High Mass Sunday at 10:30 a.m. An additional service was presented during the evening from 9:30 to 10 p.m., when the parish choir under the direction of Mrs. Peg Rashall was broadcast over KCMJ, local radio station.

Monsignor Frederick Wekenman officiated at all of the services and also gave a brief Easter message during the half hour radio broadcast. On Friday he was assisted by Father Laherty of San Jose, who also read the High Mass at 10:30 a.m. on Easter Sunday.

During the masses at 7:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. the crowds that "packed" their way into the church were reminiscent of the throng that attended services at the Christmas midnight mass during the early part of this season. Worshippers of all denominations found only standing room in packed aisles.

Floral decorations in great abundance, consisting of white flowers with lilies predominating, banked the altars. The priests were resplendent in beautiful white brocaded vestments.

It was the first time any type of religious service was broadcast from the church here. Taking place on Sunday evening, the highlight of this event was the singing of the choir. This choir first organized during the latter part of November, 1945, has taken part in all of the Sunday services since then. All of its singing members, including Mrs. August Kettmann, organist, spent many hours during the preceding weeks training under the direction of Mrs. Rashall.

Members of the choir include: Sopranos, Sidronia Marmalejo, Hortencia Ortega, Jo Miceli, C. Louis; altos, Rafaela M. Marmalejo, Candelaria Reyes, Ella Stefanoff, Stella Prieto; tenor, Larry Sitter; bass, Bob Goodrich. Mrs.

Community Church Filled to Capacity For Easter Service

Worshippers at the 11 o'clock Easter day services at the Community church were more than the church itself could hold and overflowed onto the grounds. Anticipating this crowd, church officials had placed a loud speaker in the olive tree in the church yard so that everybody could hear the service taking place within the church.

Many of those who were there attributed the huge crowd to the dedication of the Easter services to the rehabilitation of war-destroyed churches in foreign countries. The need is great, for spiritual as well as physical hunger is rampant, said Dr. J. R. Macartney, pastor.

The church was artistically decorated with many floral pieces. The entire front of the sanctuary and on either side of the main aisle was one continuous line of Easter lilies intermingled with white snapdragons. Above the altar a huge cross of calla lilies hung against a background of white leaves.

Holly Lash Visel directed the processionals comprised of the Blue Nightingales, the Junior Boy Singers and the Chapel Choir of high school young people.

Bill Hay read the scripture portion of the services. Members were received into the church and were welcomed by the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" and "Our Hearts in Christian Love."

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman of the Skyline Date ranch near Indio, Miss Gladys McClure, Mrs. Holly Lash Visel and William and Lois Lux were received into full membership of the church.

Rashall also assisted the soprano section in singing.

The broadcast Sunday was made under the direction of Clinton Jones, KCMJ station manager. Ted Reed's radio shop made recordings of this program.

Charles Babbitt of Taunton, Mass., discovered and patented Babbitt metal in 1839.

It is estimated that approximately 13 bushels of asparagus is marketed annually in the United States.

Education Termed
Road to Peace
By Dr. Oertel

Dr. Ernest E. Oertel, principal of the Palm Springs high school, addressed the Round Table of Palm Springs at the home of Mrs. Emily Nolan Jordan, 928 Avenida de las Palmas, at their regular Tuesday evening meeting at 8 o'clock on the subject of "Education and Implications of the World Federation Concept," referring to Emery Reves' book, "The Anatomy of Peace."

Dr. Oertel expressed the hope that educators will teach the principles of peace to young people and that also with adult education the aims of this popular book may be realized. He agreed with the principles of the book that a world government comprised of executive, legislative and judicial branches similar to the United States' democratic government will be the solution to world peace.

This will be made possible by forming the opinions of young people and their parents through education and discussion about peace, Dr. Oertel believing that "Democracy is government by discussion."

A brisk and interesting discussion followed Dr. Oertel's talk with contributions by many members of the group.

Three Marriages
Performed Easter
at Village Church

Community church was the setting for three marriages during the Easter week-end.

The first ceremony to take place occurred after midnight last Friday with the wedding of Edward H. Bowlds and Miss Shirley M. Wingate. Both the bridegroom and his bride hail from Los Angeles and Hollywood. With a group of friends who accompanied the couple from Los Angeles, they awakened Dr. J. R. Macartney to perform the ceremony, and while his wife was preparing the church and altar the wedding party wandered about the church premises. The newly married couple and friends remained in the Village until Monday, when they returned to Los Angeles.

Easter Sunday was marked with two weddings. Daniel Gaunt, local musician, and Miss Lorene Black, also of this city, appeared before Dr. Macartney to exchange vows. A group of their friends witnessed the ceremony. After a short honeymoon, they will establish their residence here.

Almost immediately after the Gaunt-Black marriage, Joseph C. Stewart and Mary Lou Kingsbury were joined in holy wedlock at 3 p. m. on Sunday. This ceremony had been planned in advance. The new husband and wife are well known in Palm Springs and the bridal couple received the felicitations of their many friends here at the Palm Springs Woman's Club, where refreshments were served. Lois Lux presided at the organ and Dr. Macartney again officiated.

Now . . . we might transpose this costume somewhat, modify it, and well illustrate one of the newer suit styles for this season. To start with the high ruffled collar, which is going to evidence itself on more than a few well-dressed women this Spring . . . it is very similar to that of Queen Bess. If not quite as starched and predominant as that of that other century . . . it does resemble it very much . . . being very fluffy and consuming most of the neck.

So far we have only seen it displayed on blouses worn with suits . . . but the style could easily become just as popular on dresses.

To harmonize with the collar . . . the sleeve cuffs generally have been frilled and ruffled, also . . . peeking out from under the suit sleeve edge. The whole effect looks very smart and crisp, and gives a light Spring touch.

The Elizabethan sleeves were more exaggerated than are the sleeves of today . . . however, leg o' mutton sleeves are on their way back . . . and already in vogue now is the full bloomer sleeve . . . even on suits.

Fullness in clothes . . . accentuated by a tiny waist line, has been the talk of the fashion world for quite a time now . . . just as it probably was in the time of Henry and Elizabeth . . . and of course we have much in common in regard to the wearing of much jewelry . . . if not quite as much or as precious as that worn by the nobility of the past.

The women of that other time wore elaborate coiffures . . . many

From Head to Toe

By BARBARA K. SCHILLY

Once upon a time there lived Kings and Queens and their clothes had a very distinctive look. They wore large puffed sleeves . . . frills around their wrists . . . and billowy ruffs around their necks. King Henry VIII and Queen Elizabeth went for the style in a great way and now we find that some of the newer Spring suits are copying their original creations.

Queen Elizabeth undoubtedly felt quite chic as she stepped out with Essex wearing her dress with those fashionable full leg o' mutton sleeves . . . dainty ruching at her wrists . . . a large frilled collar hiding her neck completely . . . and her wasp waist, the effect obtained by wearing her clothes full but drawing them in tightly. Her hair was piled high on top of her head, and naturally, being a queen, she wore much jewelry.

Now . . . we might transpose this costume somewhat, modify it, and well illustrate one of the newer suit styles for this season. To start with the high ruffled collar, which is going to evidence itself on more than a few well-dressed women this Spring . . . it is very similar to that of Queen Bess.

If not quite as starched and predominant as that of that other century . . . it does resemble it very much . . . being very fluffy and consuming most of the neck. So far we have only seen it displayed on blouses worn with suits . . . but the style could easily become just as popular on dresses.

To harmonize with the collar . . . the sleeve cuffs generally have been frilled and ruffled, also . . . peeking out from under the suit sleeve edge. The whole effect looks very smart and crisp, and gives a light Spring touch.

The Elizabethan sleeves were more exaggerated than are the sleeves of today . . . however, leg o' mutton sleeves are on their way back . . . and already in vogue now is the full bloomer sleeve . . . even on suits.

Fullness in clothes . . . accentuated by a tiny waist line, has been the talk of the fashion world for quite a time now . . . just as it probably was in the time of Henry and Elizabeth . . . and of course we have much in common in regard to the wearing of much jewelry . . . if not quite as much or as precious as that worn by the nobility of the past.

The women of that other time wore elaborate coiffures . . . many

Bobbie has been interested in clothes for a long while now (evidenced by her excellent taste) . . . having studied merchandising and fashion at Columbia University. By DON CAMERON

A year ago yesterday on just such a beautiful day two significant things happened: Molotov, Eden and Stettinius started their hobnobbing in the United Nations Conference at San Francisco and this old fellow and his two dogs, Mike and Cam, with a station wagon load of assorted laundry, tools, etc., started out for his daily chores at Torney General hospital.

All was going well when, at the Cove, a front tire blew, we hit the soft shoulder and started to roll. On the first roll, Mike, Cam and I left without conscious effort and the station wagon became a junkman's delight, stringing laundry along the right-of-way for too long a distance. Nine-days later I came to in a valley hospital with a clearance slip from St. Peter, or possibly it was the red boy with the horns, and two good friends, Gordon Fekings and Judge Dick Welch of Riverside had secured the Veterans Facility ambulance, taking me to Sawtelle, where I received the very finest medical attention—all for free.

Phat, what is the reason for all this rush in this leisurely land when I and 40,000 whop it up along Highway 111 only to get caught in the town traffic jam, taking fifteen invaluable minutes to go from the Black Tent to the Desert Sun office in the north end of town. I don't get it!

An old friend, Phin Prouty, and a new one, Al Sprague, just joined the Rancho Mirage Legion Post. Guess I'll have to join it myself. Al, as you know, runs the Blue Haven Court in Cathedral City and is coming out here to build a new one. Phin, featuring his put-put, has been dropping in for years to see this old fellow. He has been a long time resident of Rancho Mirage and he and his family spent the Easter week here with us. He is looking forward to going east this June to participate in the 100th anniversary of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co., of which he is the general agent.
